FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

“Florida Breast Cancer Coalition Research Foundation Partners with Community Health Charities of Florida in the Fight to End Breast Cancer”

Hallandale, FL (June 9, 2009)-Florida Breast Cancer Coalition Research Foundation (FBCCRF) has proudly partnered with the Community Health Charities of Florida (CHC-FL) in the efforts of ending breast cancer. This partnership will allow FBCCRF an opportunity to take advantage of exclusive campaigns and involvement with CHC-FL corporate partners. FBCCRF is very enthused about potential involvement with corporate partners such as City of Jacksonville, Jacksonville Electric Aviation, American Express Service Center in Ft. Lauderdale, United Health Care, and Florida Blood Service to name a few. FBCCRF look forward to an exciting and successful campaign season with CHC-FL!

Community Health Charities is an organization that works in partnership with 55 of the nation’s most trusted health charities through its network of 36 affiliate offices. Together with its member charities and corporate partners, Community Health Charities works to improve the lives of people affected by a disability or chronic disease by uniting caring donors in the workplace with health issues and causes important to them and their families. Community Health Charities the largest workplace giving collaborative with a focus on health issues. Over the past 5 years, CHC has distributed more than $330 million to its member charities.

Both organizations are looking forward to what is to come from the partnership. “We anticipate a long standing relationship with much monetary rewards for FBCCRF. I look forward to meeting and working with FBCCRF board members and educating them on ways to help us access more employers so employees throughout the state can designate their gifts to FBCCRF!” stated Gwen Cooper, President of Community Health Charities of Florida.

About the Florida Breast Cancer Coalition Research Foundation:

Florida Breast Cancer Coalition Research Foundation (FBCCRF) is a 501 (c) (3) grassroots organization with the mission to end breast cancer through advocacy, education, and research. FBCCRF works statewide to raise awareness and mobilize Floridians to ensure sufficient public funding for breast cancer research, quality health care for all without fear of discrimination and an environment free of carcinogens. FBCCRF is the only organization in the State of Florida with the End Breast Cancer license plate. All monies raised stay in the State of Florida to support advocacy, education, and research programs for Florida residents.
